INTRODUCTION.

I.

The fifth and last Vaggo of the Samyutta-Nikāya, the so called Mahā-Vaggo, well deserves this name, being the largest of these great Divisions. It occupies, in the Singhalese MS. of Copenhagen, 98 sheets (tr-phl), in that of Paris, 104 (na-go), in the Burmese MS. of Paris, 150 (tha-bhā), and in mine, 131. It consists of 12 Samyuttas, which added to the 44 of the preceding Divisions make up the total of 56.

The following are the names of the 12 Samyuttas with the numbers of the Chapters and Suttas:

| Names                                | Chapters | Suttas           |

| IV. (XLVIII) Indriya-S. . . . .      | 17       | 185              |
| V. (XLIX) Sammappadhāna-S. . . . .   | 5        | 54               |

| IX. (LIII) Jhāna-S. . . . .          | 5        | 54               |
| X. (LIV) Anāpāna-S. . . . .          | 2        | 20               |
| XI. (LV) Sotāpatti-S. . . . .        | 7        | 74               |
| XII. (LVI) Sacca-S. . . . .          | 11       | 181              |
|                                      | 103      | 1208.            |

The tiresome repetitions, peculiar to the buddhist scriptures, abound exceedingly in the Mahā-Vaggo, and form so great a proportion in several of its Samyuttas that important abridgments are required. The singhalese and burmese MSS. differ so much in the manner and quantity of their abbreviation that they seem to have nothing common, although they are dealing with the same subject. Moreover the reckoning of the chapters is, in several Samyuttas, subject to some difficulty.

II.

The first of these Samyuttas, the Magga, is divided into eight chapters, according to the burmese MS. of Paṇḍita (B<sup>1</sup>); but, between the fourth and the fifth of these chapters five so called Peyyālas (Āṇāṭṭhiya, Suriya, two Ekadhamma, Gaṅga) are inserted, apparently as a lengthening of the fourth chapter, but without any numeral designation. However, the first of them, the Āṇāṭṭhiya is counted pañcama (fifth) in my MS. (B<sup>2</sup>), and, as the first chapter coming after the Peyyālas (the Appamāda) is also numbered pañcama, we have, according to B<sup>2</sup>, two fifth chapters separated by four pseudo-chapters. Prudently, B<sup>2</sup> do not give any number either to the Peyyālas after the Āṇāṭṭhiya, or to the chapters (Vaggos) after the Appamāda. More prudent still, the singhalese MSS. have numbers for all the Peyyālas and Vaggos after what in all the MSS. the fourth chapter. B<sup>1</sup> alone numbers the Vaggos, excluding the Peyyālas. — I followed it, but reckoning seems to me by no means satisfactory.

The last of the aforesaid Peyyālas, the Gaṅga, and subsequent Vaggos (Appamāda, Balakaraṇiya, Esana, Ogga) are the common share of the nine first Samyuttas, and the eighth, and form the last part of each of them. The last even of the Samyuttas, the fifth (Sammappadhāna), sixth (Bala), and the nine (Jhāna) are nothing more than this very part, which cannot be rehearsed wholly each time. Therefore the burmese MSS. give only the first and last sutta of the lump with reference to the first Samyutta (Magga), where the matter is developed at length; the Singhalese MSS. are less exact in reproducing the text.

t never fail to repeat the Uddānas, not however without the inaccuracy of which the trace is apparent in the present volume. I have combined the two systems as well

I could. As the subject can be considered under several aspects, the aforesaid Uddānas occur twice in the Samyuttas II. IV. VI: why not in the others? I do not quite understand the cause of this difference; and so I have followed the MSS.

The perplexity already alluded to as to the reckoning of the chapters occurs in other Samyuttas, especially in the last, where after the fourth chapter nothing is certain, the Singhalese MSS. noting two tatiyo vaggo separated by several chapters and all the MSS. giving at the end some titles without any precise application. I do not insist upon this difficulty; the reader will perceive it.

III.

The materials at my disposal for issuing this volume were as before:

S<sup>1</sup>, the singhalese MS. of Copenhagen, for the loan of which I address once more my warm thanks to the Administration of the royal Library. This beautiful MS. has in this part an avowed gap, the fourth part of the text na, the whole sheet no, and the first half of nan having been left blank.

B<sup>2</sup> burmese MS. belonging to me. It is unfortunately very deficient in this part, as many sheets are wanting, the four last ones which are of another hand than the rest, were of little use on account of their extreme incorrectness.

I have again to express my regret at being deprived of the use of S<sup>2</sup> the singhalese MS. of the British Museum, which I have only been able to consult on pages 1—144 of the first volume (Sagatha-vaggo). I am also somewhat sorry at having had the Commentary only for the Sagatha- and Nidāna-Vaggo, and in general for not having had at my disposal a greater number of MSS. (especially Siamese MSS., which were wanting altogether). I have endeavoured, as it is, to show the state of our MSS. So I have not inserted in the text any word not found in them. And I have given all the readings, although they were sometimes evident blunders. Nevertheless I may have omitted some of them when they were not to be found in all the MSS. of same origin or when they were not repeated in similar passages, but this exceptionally and unwillingly.

As the singhalese MSS. note abridgments by the sign pe, the burmese by lu or pa, these tokens, in the present book, when isolated, are enough to assign abridgments to their respective MSS.; when joined, to show that the abridgments are common to all the MSS. Abridgments between brackets, and without either pe, lu, or pa, exist in the MSS., but have none of those 3 marks.

IV.

With the Mahā-Vaggo and this fifth volume, the Saṃyutta-Nikāya is at an end. Summing up the numbers of the Suttas in each great Division, I reach this result:

|                                |            |
|--------------------------------|------------|
| I. Sagātha-Vaggo . . . . .     | 271 Suttas |
| II. Nidāna-Vaggo . . . . .     | 286 „      |
| III. Khandha-Vaggo . . . . .   | 733 „      |
| IV. Saḷāyatana-Vaggo . . . . . | 391 „      |
| V. Mahā-Vaggo . . . . .        | 1208 „     |
|                                | 2889       |

Now, the Saṃyutta-Nikāya is said to consist of 7,762 suttas as it is stated in the beginning of the Petavatthu atthakathā and very likely elsewhere:

Oghatarasasattādini suttasuttasahassāni satta ca sata-suttāni dvāsattūhi ca suttāni Saṃyuttanikāyo.

The difference is not small. But I already noted that there can be several modes of counting the suttas. For instance, in the Saḷāyatana-Vaggo<sup>1</sup>, I found 391 or 1850 suttas. The numerous suttas where the distinction of atīta-, etarahi-, anāgata is made could each be counted perhaps as three texts. In this Mahā-Vaggo itself, the ten suttas of the Appamāda-Vaggo (p. 41—45), of the Esanā-Vaggo (p. 54—58) are divided each in four parts, which could be considered as so much suttas; and, this being repeated in eight Samyuttas, the total would be seriously increased. By these means, the sum of 7,762 can be attained, but not be got from the data of the MSS. I counted the suttas according to the Uddānas, and although I may have miscalculated to a certain extent, the true result is, on such a basis, certainly far below 7,762.

V.

I cannot discourse here upon the question whether the Samyutta Nikāya, seemingly in general, certainly in many instances, borrowed from other compilations. For example, in this volume, we have (p. 146) the fable of the hawk and the quail, and (p. 420) Gotama's first Discourse styled here Tathāgatenaruttam, the well known title Dhammacakkappavattanam being that of a chapter, not of a sutta. Several suttas in this compilation itself are also identical or nearly so. As a rule, I have not made the obvious identifications, because I scarcely thought this the right place nor could I spare the time and space required.

VI.

Like the preceding volumes, this ends with three Indices: 1. Index of the proper names; 2. Index of the titles of the suttas; 3. Index of the gāthās. I wished to add a General Index of the proper names and of the Suttas for the whole body. But I gave up this not to delay the issue of this volume, and have added only the table of the Vaggos-Samyuttas and chapters.
